The Petitioner instituted a public interest litigation (PIL 90 of 2002) in which a Division Bench delivered judgment on 11th February, 2004. The Supreme Court has while granting leave in the Special Leave Petition filed by the Thane Municipal Corporation, issued certain directions on 20th September, 2004. The grievance in this Contempt Petition is that in respect of two co-operative societies (Bharati Niwas and Lokmanya Society) plans have not been sanctioned. Counsel appearing for the Corporation has placed on the record a letter dated 3rd June, 2005 of the Thane Municipal Corporation to Bharati Niwas Co-operative Society calling upon the society to file certain documents before the plans can be considered for sanction. In my view, it would not be possible to entertain the Contempt Petition at the behest of the Petitioner in the public interest litigation filed before the Court in the earlier proceedings. If the society is aggrieved by the action of the Municipal Corporation, it would be open for the society to take recourse in accordance with law. The Contempt Petition is dismissed.
